WORKSHOP / ACTIVITY APPLICATION

2021 WORLD CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL

WASHINGTON D.C.

The International Child Art Foundation (ICAF) invites field experts and eminent educators to host a one-hour workshop or a two-hour activity at the 2021WCF at The National Mall in Washington, D.C. this July 30th, July 31st or August 1st. The workshop or activity can be designed for schoolchildren or their teachers and parents. There is no charge or honorarium.

The WCF workshops and activities are based on STEAMS Education—our pioneering approach that integrates STEM disciplines with art and culture (signified by the “A”) and sport and play (the “S”) for children’s holistic development. The festival’s educational framework is as follows.

Friday, July 30th is Health & Environment Day, learning about risks shared by children and concerns common to them.

Saturday, July 31st is Creativity & Imagination Day, gaining peak performance by developing personal potential and talent.

Sunday, August 1st is Peace & Leadership Day, acquiring leadership skills that inspire teamwork.

The workshops and activities help create a transformative experience that inspires children to revise their self-identity and become “creative-empaths.” You will have the opportunity to talk with the children, listen to their concerns, paint and play with them, touch the future, and help shape it.
